

Gourd-shaped Jug

Date

c. 2000-1800 BCE

Primary Maker

Unidentified artist

Medium

earthenware

Description

Globular, gourd-shaped vase with long neck, pouring spout, one handle, and rounded bottom. The red slip is heavily burnished, with marks from the burnishing tool crossing the surface like hatching. The added spout, with flaring rim, probably came from a similar vessel.
